MRS. O'NEAL MADE FLIGHT IN PLANE

"Simply Delightful", is her Version of First Ride Among Clouds.

DONS AIRMAN COSTUME

Plane Circled Seminary Ridge and Camp Colt. Reached Altitude of 1,000 Feet.

"It was simply delightful" said Mrs. Walter O'Neal as she alighted from Lieutenant Nelson's plane in the presence of about fifteen hundred spectators, after taking a ten minute air spin over Gettysburg on Thursday afternoon. "Persons who have never taken a trip in an airplane cannot imagine what a wonderful view is obtained", continued Mrs. O'Neal, chairman of the Women's Committee of the Liberty Loan Drive who accepted an invitation tendered her to make a flight in Sergeant Walter Shaffer's plane, "and I only wish that I could have remained up longer."

In response to a question asking whether or not she noted any perceptible change Mrs. O'Neal replied, "The only change I felt was that the air got slightly cooler. There was no rocking sensation to make me sick and we did not seem to be going fast most of the time. I certainly enjoyed the ride and am glad I received the opportunity to take it."

A large number of people gathered on Camp Colt field immediately after the plane landed as practically every resident of Gettysburg desired to see Sergeant Shaffer make a flight and also to watch Mrs. O'Neal take her place as passenger. Many persons thought that Mrs. O'Neal would not attempt the flight and expected to see her decline at the last moment. On the contrary she displayed courage which would have done credit to a man or woman many years her junior and donned a suit specially made for aeronauts without a moment's hesitation.

A few moments later Mrs. O'Neal was shown the passenger seat of the airplane and climbed in while the big crowd applauded.

Lieutenant Fred Nelson took his seat as pilot of the aircraft, the big propeller was set in motion, the machine moved several hundred feet down the field, turned, and then sailed far over the heads of spectators. For ten minutes the plane circled over Seminary Ridge and Camp Colt field at a height of 1000 feet and then returned to make a graceful landing.

As far as tail spins and loop the loops were concerned the flight was devoid of features but the fact that Mrs. O'Neal had taken the trip made it an occurrence long to be remembered in Gettysburg and she has been busy accepting congratulations ever since she stepped out of the plane.

In commenting upon Mrs. O'Neal's flight Lieutenant Nelson said, "I want to have a picture of that lady for she showed more nerve for her age than any woman I ever saw." There is a possibility that no woman of Mrs. O'Neal's age in Pennsylvania has ever ridden in an airplane.

MORE SOLDIERS RETURN

Lieutenant William Allison, 112th Regiment, who spent ten months in France, arrived in Gettysburg on Thursday. Lieutenant Allison is a member of the "Keystone" Division which was given such great welcomes at York, Harrisburg and Chambersburg and he was present at the ovation tendered the returned soldiers at both Harrisburg and Chambersburg.

Overseas soldiers continue to return home every day and almost every train brings a soldier back to Gettysburg. Francis Miller, 109th Machine Gun Battalion, returned to his home on East Middle street this morning.

Lieutenant Clyde Bream, 128th Regiment of the Thirty Second Division, has reached New York City and may visit Gettysburg before going to Camp Custer, Michigan.

LAST CHANCE FOR VICTORY BONDS

Final Appeal to Adams County Residents to Buy on Closing Day.

THURSDAY NETS RESULTS

Franklin and Cumberland Over. Banking Finishing Strong. Glass Appeals to Women Workers.

There is only one more day left to buy Victory Liberty bonds. The loan is lagging as it comes down the home stretch. To-day Adams county chairmen are making their final appeal for subscriptions that will set a new mark in loan records for the county. They are asking everyone to buy as the Adams county boys fought in France—until the end. It is the last chance of the last loan.

While the returns for the campaign carried on by High School students Thursday have not all been made, indications point to a record number of sales. Reports already in show that $12,000 in bonds was subscribed during the afternoon as the solicitors canvassed the huge crowds on the Square and at the landing field at Camp Colt. It is expected that complete returns will show $20,000, as the day's work.

The Gettysburg Banking district is slowly but surely meeting its obligations, as the reports from Franklin and Cumberland townships to-day indicate. Both moved into the honor column Thursday night. Cumberland with a quota of $40,560 is reported by sub-chairman, Jacob Sharetts, with a total amount of $44,150. Sub-chairmen Clair Sowers and John Brehm, of Franklin, have announced an over-subscription of $4,000.

Secretary Glass in a telegram to the women loan workers, which was received, by Chairman Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal, says, "The Women of the United States have made instant and magnificent response to every call the government has made to them through the five Liberty Loans. They have served with devotion, with zeal and with self sacrifice. The government of the United States again sounds the bugle for a further advance in the keen realization of what the women have already done in this and other campaigns. The Treasury calls to them in these closing days for service in a final rush upon the field that will take the Loan over the last trench."

Additions to the Gettysburg honor roll follows:

First Ward: Clara A. Baker, Dorothea L. Baker, J. B. Baker, Mrs. J. B. Baker, Joseph J. Baker, Katie Barbehenn, Anna E. Basehoar, Minnie Basehoar, Alveta D. Bender, Geo. W. Bender, Gertrude H. UNVEIL SIGNAL CORPS MEMORIAL

FORTY THIRD REUNION

Takes Place Thursday Night. Tablet will be Dedicated as Tribute to Memory of their Dead.

A memorial tablet to the United States Army Signal Corps erected on Little Round Top near the statue of General Warren will be unveiled next Friday morning at eleven o'clock at the Forty Third Annual Reunion of the Veteran Signal Corps Association.

Colonel Edward H. Haskell, Historian of the Signal Corps Association and Chairman of the Committee on the Gettysburg Memorial, will deliver the dedicatory address. Rev. J. A. Kaley, of Ohio, will recite Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

On Thursday night the Comrades of the Signal Corps will hold an informal reunion at their headquarters, the Eagle Hotel, and will leave at nine o'clock on Friday morning to take a battlefield excursion arriving at the tablet in time for the dedication. A 12:30 o'clock they will return to the hotel for dinner and at two o'clock will hold a business meeting of the association.

Major General George O. Squier, Chief Signal Officer of the United States Army, has been invited to attend the reunion of the association.

The Memorial Tablet will be dedicated to the Signal Corps "which through valiant and heroic services at Little Round Top from July 2-4, 1863 and on many historic battlefields throughout the war of 1861-1865 contributed so greatly to the success of the Union Armies." The tablet will be placed by surviving members of the Signal Corps as tribute to the memory of their dead.

Besides Chairman Colonel E. H. Haskell, the committee on Gettysburg Memorial is composed of Colonel J. E. Hyneman, Charles DeWitt Marcy, Fred D. Hills, Fred W. Owens, William M. Wires and William Lowe.

The tablet is forty two inches high and twenty five inches in width.

ARGUMENT FOR NEW TRIAL

Reinecker Advances Same Plea as did Collins.

Argument on the motion of a new trial for Charles Reinecker, who was convicted of first degree murder of George Bushman, was heard by the Court this morning.

Reinecker's counsel advanced the same argument as in the Collins case namely that the crime was committed in Cumberland County and that the Adams County court had no power to try Reinecker.

The Commonwealth offered no argument but will submit a brief to the court.

As neither the Collins nor Reinecker cases could be heard before the Supreme Court before October there is no necessity for haste in giving a decision concerning a new trial for either of the boys and the Court may not decide the matter until August.

Sentence was suspended in the case of John Maloney, who pleaded guilty a year ago on a charge of larceny, and has been at the County Jail since that time.

AVIATORS THRILL LARGE CROWDS

Schools and Factories Close. Thousands Throng Town Streets.

SOLDIERS GUARD PLANE

Plane Made Three Flights Over Gettysburg. Band Entertains Crowds Waiting for Demonstration.

Hundreds of Adams county people enjoyed the spectacular sight of an airplane going through falling leaves, loop the loops and tail spins when Sergeant Walter Shaffer's plane appeared over Gettysburg at 3:10 o'clock. The big crowd not only enjoyed that demonstration over the center of town but flocked in great numbers to Camp Colt field to observe the second flight.

Schools were closed, factories shut down to allow both pupils and workmen to enjoy the demonstration and participate in the parade. Gettysburg's band, which has volunteered on many occasions during the Victory Loan campaign and has been a decided factor in drawing crowds to purchase bonds, appeared on the streets shortly after two o'clock Thursday afternoon and, after giving a concert in front of Liberty Loan Headquarters, marched out to Camp Colt field.

Soldiers from the local Quartermaster Corps acted as guards to keep the people back from the airplane but their number was insufficient for the task and it became necessary to call on other men in uniform to aid in the work. Lieutenant Nelson was unable to make his flight for some time as the guards were busy pushing the crowd back from the machine, and as a last resort automobiles were driven close to the edge of the throng in order to make room for the airplane as it proceeded along the ground.

Everyone present was anxious to secure a close glimpse of Sergeant Shaffer, the much heralded aviator, but it was not generally known that Lieutenant Nelson was the man who made the flight with Mrs. O'Neal and Shaffer was the man wearing the blue French uniform decorated with the Croix de Guerre and French Distinguished Service Medal. Sergeant Shaffer conversed with members of the Liberty Loan Committee while Lieutenant Nelson made the flight and then took a trip over the battlefield before delivering his lecture at St. James Chapel.

No Liberty Loan literature was dropped by Lieutenant Nelson in his second flight but on the first and last appearances of the plane over Gettysburg he dropped papers advocating purchasing bonds and before leaving for Harrisburg threw out advertisements of Gettysburg merchants which permitted finders to secure prizes at their stores.

At 7:10 o'clock Lieutenant Nelson and Sergeant Parfett, who acted as mechanic throughout the day, flew over town, dropped advertisement cards and disappeared toward Harrisburg. A final wave of Sergeant Parfett's hand told persons watching the airplane from Center Square that the aviators were gone for good and the gatherings dispersed after an eventful day.

BIG CROWD SEES SENIORS' PLAY

Six Hundred People Proclaim "The Colonel's Maid" Splendid Production.

CAST DOES EXCELLENTLY

Four Acts are Presented without Hesitation. Ching-Ah-Ling, Chinese Cook, Furnishes Amusing Situations.

Before a crowd of over six hundred people which filled every seat and window sill in Xavier Hall the class of 1919 of Gettysburg High School gave one of the best amateur productions, Thursday night, ever witnessed by a local audience. From the time the first curtain of "The Colonel's Maid" arose at eight fifteen o'clock until the end of the last act three hours later the large audience was in a state of perpetual enjoyment and frequently accorded the players loud applause.

Every member of the cast showed the result of careful training by Miss Helen Cope, directress of the play, and carried off their parts without any visible hesitation. Cues were taken immediately and there was no delay of characters appearing on the stage at the proper time.

All participants played parts which were very essential in the unfolding of the plot and in each instance the character was very well presented for an amateur production.

Comedy throughout the play was produced by Robert Hartley as Ching-Ah-Ling and the audience seemed to enjoy each of his appearances upon the stage. Ching made persons in the front row dodge involuntarily in the first act when he pretended to throw water upon them.

Colonel Rudd desired to see his son Bob "to have a little talk with him" so frequently that the audience burst into laughter every time the Colonel mentioned "talk." The Colonel also had an amusing habit of repeatedly commanding his son to leave the house and then telling him to "be sure to return in time for supper."

Ned Graydon provoked much laughter on account of his faulty memory. Being unable to remember his assumed name Alexander Bixler he wrote the letters A B in his book to remind him. When approached by different persons, however, he forgot A B stood for Alexander Bixler and after much consultation of his book gave his name as Alonzo Benzine, Aaron Burr or any A B name coming to his mind.

Make ups of the characters which fitted splendidly with their parts were due to the work of Miss Margaret Marker and Calvin Gilbert.

Music of the evening was furnished by the High School orchestra led by Rex Gilbert. Between the second and third acts John Keith Esq. gave a short address urging the audience to do their utmost toward shoving the Liberty Loan over the top in Gettysburg.

TELLS STORY OF AIR FIGHTING

STORY OF FIRST BOCHE

His Own Capture by the Germans and Life in the Prison Camp were Features of the Address.

Before a large audience in the St. James Chapel Thursday night, Sergeant Walter Shaffer, of the Lafayette Flying Corps, delivered his lecture "Over the Heads of the Hun." The aviator held the attention of his appreciative audience while he recounted his experiences from the time he left the United States early in 1917 until his return several months ago.

Shaffer's story which has appeared in many publications recently is an unusual one. His futile efforts to join the air service of the United States, his enlistment in the famous French Flying Escadrille, shooting down his first Boche plane, his own descent behind the German lines and the life in a Hun prison camp are the principal features of his story.

The desire to fly came to the Dauphin aviator many years ago when he saw one of the first flights at Paxtang Park in Harrisburg. Later he studied flying at the Essington School near Philadelphia, but failed to qualify for a pilot's license on his first attempt when he fell in the Delaware river.

Early in 1917 he went to France at his own expense and joined the Foreign Legion. He told of the difficulties and pleasures of the French Flying School, relating many heroic deeds that were accomplished by the Americans with the French and which earned for the men of the United States the descriptive title "crazy Americans." His accounts of the many air victories to his credit and his official recognition by the French government brought applause from the audience.

It was early in October of last year, while in a 12,000 foot drive on a German observation balloon ten miles back of the Boche lines that Shaffer was shot down by anti-aircraft guns from below and was taken prisoner. In landing he smashed his plane so that it could not be used by the Germans but escaped uninjured. Then followed the story of six weeks in a German prison camp, of his attempt to escape and recapture two days later.

After the armistice was signed he walked from Germany into Amiens, France, where he secured transportation into Paris and subsequent passage to this country.

Sergeant Shaffer has accepted an offer of a French Syndicate to return to France and pilot planes that will carry tourists on sightseeing trips over the historic battlefields. He will lecture in Hanover this evening.

COUNTY WOMEN IN CONFERENCE

NINE YEARS IN INDIA

An interesting address by Rev. Henry R. Spangler, who served as a missionary of the Lutheran church in India for the past nine years, brought to an end a successful meeting of the Adams County Conference of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the West Pennsylvania Synod in College Lutheran church Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Spangler's subject for the afternoon address was "The Caste System of India." He said, "There are about 2,500 castes in India and the members of one caste are not allowed to associate with those of another. This is one of the chief hindrances that the missionary to India has to contend with." He added that this ancient system was being broken down by the combined efforts of the missionaries of the Christian churches. Mr. Spangler during his long stay in India visited many parts of that country but most of his time was spent at the Lutheran College at Gunter.

At the business session new officers for the conference were elected. Mrs. H. D. Becker, of Hanover, retains the position of president, Mrs. L. M. Crenger, of Gettysburg, was elected vice president and Mrs. Paul E. Werner, of Hanover, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. Elsie Lewars and was responded to by Mrs. Z. I. Bowman. Mrs. Werner led the discussion on "The Importance of Missionary Bands." Mrs. W. I. Reday, of Hanover, told about the thank offerings during the past year. For the year just ending the West Pennsylvania Synod, of which the Adams County Conference is a part, contributed $3322 in thank offerings. This shows a yearly increase of $2,000 during the past six years.

An interesting feature of the conference was the open meeting at which time questions pertaining to various phases of the organization were discussed. Miss Carrie Musselman, who is President of the West Pennsylvania Synodical Society, was presented by Mrs. Becker as the one to have her name placed in the Fortieth Anniversary chest. This was made possible because of a $50 contribution given by the Adams County Conference. This district's quota for the Fortieth Anniversary drive was $4,000 and reports given show that $5,227 was raised in this county.

The Adams County Conference comprises seventeen Woman's Societies, four Young People's and eleven missionary bands.

AUSTRIANS NEXT BEFORE COUNCIL

DOCUMENT IS DRAFTED

Council of Four Arranging Program. Mission will Sign Without Asking Questions.

Paris, May 9.—The French Foreign Office received information late Thursday that the Austrian peace delegation had left Vienna Wednesday night and would reach St. Germain probably to-day.

The Council of Four, with Premier Orlando of Italy present, began Thursday to arrange the program for the presentation of peace terms to the Austrian, Hungarian and Bulgarian delegates.

The Austrian treaty has begun to take form. Portions of it already have been drafted.

It appears that instead of Germany being required to pay the entire indemnity by the Allies, a considerable sum will be demanded of Austria, the estimate of this sum at present being 5,000,000,000 crowns.

This indemnity provision, and the delimitation of the frontiers of the new states will be the main features of the treaty now in making. Provision is to be made for dividing Austria-Hungary's pre-war debt among the new states formed from territory formerly belonging to that empire.

The frontiers between German Austria and Italy, and probably the Adriatic settlement will also figure in the Austrian treaty.

The German-Austrian peace delegation includes Dr. Franz Klein, Prof. Heinrich Lammasch, Prof. von Laun, Under Secretary Flucke and Deputies Stegliger and Rudolph Lodgman. Herr Flucke will represent the Tyrol, and Deputy Lodgman the German Bohemians.

What the Austrian delegation will accomplish is not clear here at present because of the economic chaos in the former empire. The Austrians, however, probably will sign any peace offered, but only for the relative part of the empire which they represent. One of the many questions to be adjusted is that of the financial responsibility of the new republics formed from the old empire for the debts of the war.

"The solution of the radical problem," Herr Lodgman said Thursday, "is to give all the old provinces with conflicting nationalities new frontiers. Later they will be obliged to unite voluntarily because their economic interests will demand it."

Dr. Franz Klein, chairman of the German-Austrian peace delegation, was minister of justice in the Austrian Cabinet from 1906 to 1909. He is 65 years of age and a graduate of the University of Vienna. In 1893 a code of civil law, prepared by Dr. Klein, was put in operation in Austria and earned the author a high place in legal circles in Austria and Germany.

Professor Lammasch was premier of Austria when the armistice was signed and previously had been a member of the law faculty of the University of Vienna.

Prof. Rudolph von Laun also was connected with the law school of the University of Vienna, as was Dr. Klein. Rudolph Lodgman has sat in the Austrian lower house as a representative of the German-Bohemians for many years.

ARENDTSTADT

Arendtsville—The bees are swarming unusually early this year. Hanson W. Taylor got a swarm the latter part of April and Ira S. Orner got one on the second day of May. The early swarms always do the best.

Miss Marian Kirkpatrick and Miss Lola Wierman, of Philadelphia, were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Wierman.

Henry W. Byers, who spent his boyhood days in this place but now of Omaha, Nebraska, is visiting relatives here.

Last Friday Hersh Lauver went to Buffalo, N. Y., to see his brother, William Lauver, who has returned from overseas and is now in the American Hospital. He was severely wounded and will not be able to return home for some time.

Amos Wagner and sister, Miss Mary Wagner, of Harrisburg, were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bushey. Mr. Wagner recently returned from France.

Jacob Fidler, of St. Louis, Mo., a former resident of this place, is visiting old friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Little, of Pittsburgh, are guests in the home of Mrs. Henry Little and Rev. and Mrs. D. T. Koser. Mrs. Hiram C. Lady and son, Lieutenant Luther Lady, have returned from a visit with relatives in West Chester and Swarthmore. They made the trip by automobile.

Prof. and Mrs. P. M. Harbolt were recent guests in the home of C. S. Rice.

MRS. HUGH C. WALLACE

Mrs. Hugh C. Wallace, wife of the new ambassador to France, and daughter of the late Chief Justice Fuller, has been "ward visitor" at Walter Reed hospital, a government institution for the care of wounded soldiers, from the time the first war victim arrived.

CHINESE MOOD IS BELLIGERENT

Serious Concern in Official Circles Over Agitation in Peking.

Washington, May 9.—Serious concern is felt in official circles here over the agitation in Peking and Tokio in opposition to ratification by China of the peace treaty.

Japanese warnings to Chinese authorities, it is feared, may be the prelude to action should any Japanese subject suffer violence.

Almost total suspension of cable service between China and the United States at this particular moment has added to the feeling.

Peking, May 9.—National sentiment has been aroused in Peking and throughout China over the Peace Conference decision regarding Shantung and Kaio-Chau. The press is united in demanding that the territory be returned unfettered to China.

Parliament Monday adopted a resolution addressed to the Peace Conference deprecating the decision to give the disputed territory temporarily to Japan. A boycott of Japanese goods is much discussed in official circles here.

Sunday, students burned the home of Tsao Yu Lin, minister of communications and severely beat Chang Tsung Hsiang, former minister to Japan, who was a guest at Tsao Yu Lin's house. Tsao Yu Lin suffered a broken leg in escaping from the crowd which pursued him. Chang Tsung Hsiang is in a hospital, while Tsao had found shelter in a hotel.

The police observed an attitude of benevolent neutrality during the trouble, but made several arrests after urgent orders were received from police headquarters. Before the attack on Tsao Yu Lin's house the students had marched through the legation quarter.

American Minister Reinsch, at Peking, has informed Secretary of State Lansing that all wire communication out of Peking has been cut except for one wire, which goes to Siberia.

TREATY OF PEACE TERMS STUN HUNS

TEUTONS ARE INSOLENT

German Leader Reads Defiant Speech while Seated. High Tension Felt in Congress.

Versailles, May 9.—The German delegates to the peace congress complained bitterly Thursday morning to one of the French liaison officers of the unexpected harshness of the conditions of peace.

The delegates said they had expected from the newspaper reports that the demands in many respects would be far-reaching, but were not prepared for the terms as actually laid down in the printed copy of the document.

The German delegates were the first to leave Trianon Palace after the meeting Thursday. Before their appearance the military guard had been withdrawn so as to avoid any semblance of military honor. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and Herr Landsberg came out first and the whole party was speedily shown into automobiles, which immediately, under a British and French escort, moved through crowded streets, the absolute silence of which was oppressive.

The Germans were conspicuously undiplomatic in their appearance and they suggested, rather, a party of travel-stained tourists as they entered their motor cars.

High Tension at Congress

The scene at the peace congress when the terms of the treaty were presented to the German delegates, was an impressive one, and the function was not without its tense moments. Indeed the entire half hour which it took Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau to deliver his reply to Premier Clemenceau was a period of tenseness for President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George, and in fact for virtually everyone present.

The speech was translated sentence by sentence by the German interpreters, who did not fail to bring out with full emphasis every sharp phrase in it and the three Allied statesmen put their heads together in evident anger at more than one of the German spokesman's cutting utterances, as if they were deliberating upon the advisability of an immediate answer.

The program was unaltered, however, and when the German plenipotentiary had finished Premier Clemenceau arose and put the customary phrase: "Has anyone further observations to make?" and when there was no response, continued: "I then declare the session closed."

The Allied triumvirate remained after the German delegates had left for a half hour discussion of the new situation.

The scene within the hall during the ceremony had none of the pomp and glitter of earlier peace conferences—no display of court and military uniforms such as marked the Congresses of Berlin and Vienna, no theatrical ceremonial. It seemed to gain in impressiveness, however, by these very circumstances.

At the head of the table the striking faces of Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and President Wilson attracted every eye. Marshal Foch, sitting with the French delegation at the head of one of the side tables was another conspicuous figure. The bearded faces of the Serbian statesman M. Pachtich, and the Greek premier, M. Venizelos, as well as the familiar head of Ignace Jan Paderewski, the Polish Premier, also stood out from the mass of delegates. The impassive faces of the Japanese representatives, the Oriental lineaments of the Chinese, the brown countenances of the Arabs from Hedjaz, and the presence even of the two delegates from Liberia and Haiti gave evidence that this was really a world congress.

The Germans who entered the chamber with all the confidence of victors bore themselves without a trace of nervousness and acted as if they were taking part in the deliberation on equal terms with their adversaries.

The ceremony which attracted to the hall a crowd of correspondents and officials who began arriving at an early hour, started at 2:20 o'clock when servants brought in huge armfuls of the printed condition of peace and distributed them, one copy to each delegation, around the hollow rectangle. The Germans only were excepted, their copy being delivered to them at 3:17 o'clock during the translation of Premier Clemenceau's speech.

MAY BE TRAGEDY IN OCEAN RACE

One Naval Seaplane Missing. Two Lost Safely in Halifax Bay.

Washington, D. C., May 9.—With two of the three navy seaplanes which started from Rockaway, L. I., Thursday morning on the first leg of the transatlantic flight arrived safely at Halifax, Navy officials were bending every energy Thursday night to locating the third, missing since early in the afternoon. No report of the missing machine, the NC-4, commanded by Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read, had been received after the machine passed the destroyer McDermut, first station ship, located more than 60 miles north of Cape Cod and less than half way to Halifax.

Orders were issued at once sending the McDermut and the next ship beyond her, the Kimberly, in search of the missing seaplane. Commander Read had reported just before reaching the McDermut that the oil pump on one of his motors was giving trouble and he might have to come down. Later the NC-4 reported to Commander Towers, in the NC-3 that the trouble had been repaired.

Two Planes Covered 525 Miles
Commander Towers, with the NC-1, and the NC-3 made the trip to Halifax in a fraction less than nine hours, the distance on the map over the course they took being 525 miles. These two planes went through the test in such fashion as to convince officers here that prospects for reaching Plymouth, England, the ultimate goal of the navy airmen, were exceedingly bright.

Each of the three planes had a triple radio installation when it left Rockaway. One set was the telephone by which they communicated with each other while in flight at a distance of a score or more miles. Stations and guard ships "listened in" on many of these conversations and regular long-distance radio installation and the third was the equipment for the radio compasses.

opens in the kitchen of the home of Colonel Robert Rudd, a widower of North Carolina, which is in wild disorder through the lack of effort on the part of Ching-Ah-Ling, to clean the room in addition to his duties as cook and doorman. In one of his frequent "talks" to his son, Bob, Colonel Rudd attempts to convince him that Julia Carroll is the girl he should marry but Bob argues to the contrary for he is in love with Marjorie Byrd, daughter of Colonel Rudd's most hated enemy.

Colonel Rudd later decided he needs a maid to aid Ching-Ah-Ling in his work and through the efforts of Bob, Marjorie Byrd is hired as the maid servant under the name of Hannah Katzenjammer. Colonel Byrd, Marjorie's father, was away from home at the time of his daughter's departure but later comes to the Rudd mansion to find her and is only prevented from succeeding in his mission by the strategy of Ching-Ah-Ling, who butts him in the stomach or trips him whenever he comes near Marjorie.

Finally Colonel Byrd discovers that Mrs. Carroll, the woman whom he had supposed married Colonel Rudd many years before and had later died, is alive and a widow. He and Mrs. Carroll decide to marry and Colonel Byrd and Colonel Rudd cease their enmity of so many years standing. Bob and Marjorie become engaged as do Julia Carroll and her sweetheart, Ned Graydon, who is also living at the Rudd home under an assumed name. The many complications are adjusted and the play ends at the end of the third act.

Chinese garb and entertain the guests by singing and dancing.

The cast:

Col. Robert Rudd, a widower of North Carolina, Robert Geiselman; Col. Richard Byrd, a widower of South Carolina, Glenwood Shetter; Marjorie Byrd, daughter of Col. Byrd, Lorene Roth; Bob Rudd, son of Col. Rudd, Robert Wright; Mrs. J. John Carroll, a widow and Col. Rudd's sister-in-law, Martha Major; Julia Carroll, her daughter, Helen Sefton; Ned Graydon, young gentleman of faulty memory, Clarence Stoner; James Baskom, Colonel Rudd's lawyer, James Gilliland; Ching-Ah-Ling, Chinese Cook, very important, Robert Hartley.

CHANGES MADE IN COMPENSATION

Measure Provides Increase in Rate of from Fifty to Sixty Per Cent.

Four bills making radical changes in the State workmen's compensation laws were presented to the Senate just before it adjourned for the week by Senator Frank A. Smith, Dauphin. One of them is a measure drafted by Attorney General William I. Schaffer after consultation with employers and employees and various persons interested, which has been offered as a basis for an agreement. The joint committee, named three weeks ago to consider suggested amendments, failed to reach any agreement. Mr. Schaffer said that the bill was given to Mr. Smith to present so that something would be at hand upon which to work.

The bill provides for an increase in the rate of compensation from fifty to sixty per cent of wages; cuts the waiting period from fourteen days to ten; provides for payments to dependents under certain regulations; wipes out distinction between major and minor operations; makes the period of free medical attendance thirty days instead of fourteen, and establishes a limit of $100 in addition to hospital charges, operations to be at prevailing rates and makes a number of other changes.

REVENUE BILLS

Two new revenue raising bills, based upon recommendations of the Joint Legislative Revenue Commission of several years ago, were introduced into the House by Mr. Brooks, York. They provide a tax of five mills on the capital stock of artificial gas companies and eight mills tax on the gross receipts of artificial gas, water and water power companies which are now held to be exempt under the manufacturing capital exemption decisions. It is believed that they will make many thousands of dollars which the York member desires to see used for increase of teachers' salaries.

WHITE CHURCH

White Church—There will be preaching and Sunday School at this place on Sunday afternoon.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, Miss Annie Eliza Lentz, who died November 9th, 1918, just six months ago to-day.

Rest on dear daughter your labor is o'er,
Your willing hands will toil no more.
A faithful daughter true and kind,
A better daughter we could not find.

Her gentle smile, her loving face
Are hidden from us in her resting place;
Her memory is just as dear to-day,
As on the day she passed away.

Farewell dear daughter, you are at rest,
And will forever be;
You could not stay here on earth with us,
But we can come to thee.

The midnight stars are beaming,
Upon your lonely grave,
Where you are sleeping now at rest
Those eyes that now are closed in death.

Just six months ago to-day we laid you to rest,
And folded your hands upon your breast,
In silence you suffered, in patience you bore,
Until God called you home to suffer no more.

By her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Israel C. Lentz,

HOTEL SOLD

Old York Hostelry with Historic Past Changes Hands.

The National Hotel, one of the oldest and most historic hostels of York, has been sold to Jack Silverman. This hotel was known in the Nineteenth Century as the White Hall. One of its most prominent guests in its early history was Charles Dickens. Mr. Dickens was often quoted as saying that the best breakfast he had eaten in America was prepared for him at the White Hall Tavern, York.

George Washington, it is said, and Lafayette were also guests at the old hostelry.

Use the Gasoline the Trucks Use

Truck-owners do not buy gasoline by guess. They know. They keep records of the gasoline put in and the miles taken out. They buy Power.

It is not surprising, then, that Atlantic Gasoline is the choice of the majority of truck-owners.

Trucks are not driven for pleasure. They are a business proposition, pure and simple. They must make good on a business basis. Hauling costs are determined to the penny.

What is the lesson for you? Simply this:

Truck-users have experimented for you. They have found that Atlantic gives the most. No sentiment in that. Cold fact based on day-after-day experience with loads and roads. Atlantic is their choice. For Atlantic is Power.

In the light of such experience, will you continue to ask merely for "gasoline"?

Or, will you say, state, declare and affirm that you want Atlantic Gasoline and that no other motor-fuel will do?

Use the gasoline the trucks use.

'TAS "BUST" FOR THIS TANK OUT TO CLIMB PIKE'S PEAK

"The Little Zeb" climbed eight miles above sea level and then laid down with snow and ice between her crawler plates so thick that they broke and she could crawl no further. "Pike's Peak of Bust" was her motto, and she "busted." The tank crew made repairs after digging out the snow, but army officers wouldn't let them finish the climb. Snowdrifts 100 feet deep were still ahead of her. But she's been higher than ever a tank has climbed before.

HUGE SUMS FOR STATE REVENUE

Ninety Millions Needed for Next Two Years, Sproul Outlines Plan.

Ninety millions of dollars is the irreducible minimum—the least amount of money—that can be appropriated by the present Legislature to suffice for the State's needs within the next two years, Governor Sproul said Thursday. This figure includes liberal appropriations for increases of teachers' salaries.

Increased revenue within the next two years will be ample to enable the State to make appropriations to that extent during this session, the Governor believes. While the revenue in some instances will be reduced in other cases he points out, it will be increased.

The Governor referred to the Mackey bills now receiving consideration as one that will increase the revenue of the State to a considerable extent. This bill put a tax on self-insured corporations who have not taken advantage of State insurance under the Workmen's Compensation measure.

It is not expected that appropriations will be passed beyond the ability of the State to meet them, the Governor said. He mentioned that in several instances it has been impossible to spend money appropriated by the last Legislature, because of the war-time conditions. The Highway Department appropriations were cited as examples.

Attorney General Schaffer's bill revising the workmen's compensation law, he characterized as "bully," and one that will solve the compensation tangle satisfactorily. The State must do something, he said, or labor will drift from Pennsylvania to States where the laws are more generous.

Resolutions directing that $5,000 be placed at the disposal of the Auditor General and State Treasurer for "payment of rewards for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of sending through the mails deadly instruments and devices and letters threatening the lives of prominent citizens and the destruction of property" were presented in the House at the opening of the evening session by John Davis, Indiana. The measure went to the appropriations committee. The resolutions recite that several attempts have been made upon lives of prominent citizens by sending devices through the mails and that "numerous threatening letters have been mailed within the last few days to prominent citizens threatening the lives of these citizens and the destruction of property."

NO NEED TO BE THIN.
SCRAWNY OR SALLOW

If you are thin and want to be plump; if you have wrinkles in your face that you are not proud of; if the skin is sallow or subject to pimples or blackheads, take Mi-o-na stomach tablets for two weeks and notice the change.

The majority of the thin people are thin because the stomach does not perform its duties properly. It is not secreting sufficient of the natural digestive juices and in consequence does not extract from the food enough nutritive matter to nourish every part of the body.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are intended to build up the stomach so that it will act properly and extract from the food the elements necessary to form flesh.

If you are thin try two weeks treatment of Mi-o-na stomach tablets—they are small, easily swallowed and are sold on the guarantee of money back if they do not overcome chronic indigestion, acute or chronic, stop stomach disturbance, belching, heartburn, sour stomach, and any after dinner distress.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BOOZE PROBLEM TAKES NEW TWIST

THE SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Clause Added by Liquor Interests in Hope Bill will be Unpopular. Sproul will not Veto.

Despite the efforts that have been made to banish it from continued serious consideration in the Legislature, the liquor question now presents itself as one of the most present and important matters of next week because of the "search and seizure" amendment made to the Fox Enforcement Bill by the liquor interests. This provides that any persons having a stock of liquors on their premises will be liable to a visit from the authorities and a search for liquors made and consequent seizure if any are found. There is no lofty thought of enforcing prohibition in the amendment but the idea of making the bill unpopular. Paradoxically the "dry" leader, Representative John W. Vickerman and his lieutenants are against the amendment declaring that they are for prosecution of offenders and not persecution.

The "wet" leaders hoped to make the Fox bill so unpopular that the Governor would veto it and now are flabbergasted to learn that the Executive will sign it when it reaches him. Wanting to be fair the "drys" will continue their opposition to the search and seizure idea. They refrained from placing those features in the Fox bill when it was drafted and see that the attitude of the wets is merely to becloud the issue and drag the subject out. It is likely that the amendment will be eliminated from the bill in the Senate.

The question came up in the Law and Order Committee Wednesday when Mr. Vickerman by a 13 to 9 vote had the amendment declared eliminated from the bill. William T. Ramsey took the stand that the committee could not eliminate an amendment inserted by the House of Representatives. It is a fine parliamentary point and will be heard from later.

The committee negated the Hough Sunday base ball bill; the bill to allow certain establishments open a part of Sunday and the bill for amateur sports on Sunday. Later in the day two concert bills, permitting that kind of entertainment on Sunday were introduced in the House. Those bills will have little chance in this Legislature as the Sabbath Observance watchdogs are constantly on the alert. The Rev. Dr. T. T. Mutchler is the leader of the Sabbath Observance cohorts and has never lost a fight in the Legislature.
